J. VERIFICATION

1. On leaving the panning pool the competitor must put their tube into their pan and carry it in that position until they reach the gold counting area. Please note Capping rules. When competitors are in line they may count the gold in their tube by holding the pan in one hand and lifting the tube with the other hand. The tube must be kept over the pan. Once the gold is counted the tube must be returned to the pan. The pan with the tube in it must be offered to the scrutineer.
2. The scrutineer must be able to see and count the gold flakes in the tube. This means that the water in the tube must be clean and the gold must not be obscured by other materials in the tube.
3. The competitor must inform the scrutineer how many gold flakes they believe are in the tube. The scrutineer will check the tube and if they agree, this number is recorded and the competitor signs. This signature means that they agree with the count and once signed it is final decision.
4. If the scrutineer disagrees with the competitor they will inform them of this and will give the competitor the chance to recount the gold in the tube. If, after recounting, the competitor and the scrutineer now agree, this number is recorded and the competitor signs.
5. If the competitor and scrutineer still do not agree or the gold flakes cannot be counted because of dirty water or sand in the tube, the Chief Justice and/or the Chairperson of the Competition Committee will be called. The tube will then be opened and the gold flakes counted. The competitor may request someone to be present on their behalf. The Chief Justice and/or the Chairperson of the Competition Committee are responsible to tell the scrutineer how many gold flakes are to be recorded. This decision is final.
6. Once an agreement is reached, or a decision by the Chief Justice and/or Chairperson of the Competition Committee is made, the competitor must sign the sheet. If he does not sign he may be disqualified.
7. A competitor is given back the tube with gold in, after he has signed the count.
8. If the gold flakes could not be counted because of dirty water or sand in the tube then the competitor will be given a warning and "yellow card". This means that if the same happens in any round of the same championship the competitor will receive a 2- minutes penalty each time.
9. For each flake of gold lost a penalty time of 3 minutes will be added to the competitors' finishing time.

10. In a World or European Championship competition if a competitor or team finds more gold flakes than were seeded, the heat is declared void by the Chief Justice. The heat will be re-run as soon as possible. In the case of re-runs the organizer will publish that the heat was void and the time of there-run. No results for this heat will be published. The names of those finding extra gold will be recorded by the Competition Committee. If a name appears 3 times in 3 years the jury will be called and the person/team be disqualified from any event organized under the WGA rules for 3 years. Names recorded will be made known to the WGA Council at the next AGM.
11. Cheating. If a competitor is caught cheating, or is reasonably suspected of cheating, the Chief Justice will be called immediately and will suspend the competitor until a hearing can take place. This hearing must be held as quickly as possible so that if the competitor is found to be innocent they may continue in the competition. The Chief Justice will summon the Jury, under the chair of the WGA Vice President (or President if the Vice President is absent). If, at the hearing, the competitor is found guilty, he will be disqualified immediately and banned from any competition organized by the WGA or National Competitions organized by a Member Nation for 5 years.
